Extreme Weather Policy Task Force Update

The Saturday Market's practice is that if you come down and sell, but later begin to suffer ill-effects from the heat and staying would compromise your health, you are permitted to pack up and leave early. Please inform your neighbors and the staff at the information booth of your need to leave and minimize disruption to Market as you make your way out. We understand that the threshold for heat intolerance isn't the same for everyone.

As a business owner, it is your right and responsibility to protect yourself and your employees from harm. The important thing is that you came down to make a Market.

Writer David C. Hascall has completed the third novel in his Rainbow Roads Trilogy. All three are works of Historical Fiction and take place in an around Lane County, Oregon spanning the years 1929-1949. The current novel, The Color of Shadows concludes the Journey of the Jack Family, the children of Oregon pioneers, and their friends. All have left the small lumber town of Horton to seek their fortune in the big city of Eugene. All find out they must now struggle with who to trust as the Cold war grips the nation and spies walk the streets. For them, 1949 becomes A Season of Enmity.

"I created a story that offers a different point of view of what was important to this family in 1949—an addendum to what appears in the history books," he says. "Does Fiction make a better job of the truth? It's up to the reader to decide where the history leaves off and the fiction begins."

He and wife Barbara (Barbara's Soaps of the Season) can be found in space 143 on the fountain side of the Eugene Saturday market. His new book is also available on Amazon. Contact him at foxhollowwriter@gmail.com.

The Kareng Fund is an emergency relief fund set up to help low income, self-employed artisans and their families who experience a serious career threatening crisis. You can also help the Kareng Fund every time you purchase something from Amazon!
